Tomorrow, Friday, Is REMNANT DAY.

Scores of remnants and short lengths in in Colored and Black Dress Goods, and all sorts of Wash Fabrics. Our rule of always cutting lengths to suit customers creates great quantities of remnants. The accumulation this week consists of the newest and brightest spring styles, and the lengths are sufficient for a separate skirt, a waist, a child's frock, a boy's or girl's shirt waist. We have made the prices very low in order to sell quickly.

There are also multitudes of odds and ends, incomplete lines, broken sizes and assortments, &c. These, together with any merchandise not strictly perfect or not measuring up to our high standard, and any particular styles of goods that lag or have not sold as quickly as we think they should, are treated as remnants, and by force of a reduced price will be closed out immediately. Thus you are afforded an opportunity to buy seasonable and desirable merchandise at a decided saving, and we are enabled to keep our stocks complete, fresh and and attractive all the time.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

A PLEA FOR ISRAEL.

One of the most remarkable speeches ever made on the floor of the House was delivered yesterday by Representative Allan L. McDermott, of New York.

Mr. McDermott's speech was a wide departure from the usual beaten path of congressional oratory. He spoke under the elasticity of the rules governing debate when the House as in committee of the whole on the state of the union. This elasticity permitted him to go as far hence in distance as Russia, and in time to the days of Moses, where, taking up the history of the Jews, he traced it through Biblical history to the crucifixion, thence into modern history to the time and scenes of the most recent persecutions.

"With the approach of Easter," he began, "come the stories of threatened massacres in Russia. Men and boys, women and girls, babes in mothers' arms are to be slaughtered by savage bigots, in whose brains the Russian Greek Church seems to have left no mercy. In the memory of Christ and the Cross, men called Christians have tortured and slaughtered men, women and children during 1,800 years. In the name of the Cross, bigots have persecuted each other, the Jew and the heathen. During 1,700 years of the Christian ear nearly every fanatic who evolved from his mean and miserable brain a 'command from heaven,' cheerfully and diligently persecuted those of his fellow-men who disagreed with his insanity. Around the stake, in the torture chamber, and on the field of battle 'Christian soldiers' have been transformed into wild beasts, sparing none.

"While engaged in the congenial occupation on murdering each other frenzied zealots of nearly all the Christian creeds have made common cause against the Jews. The world has been drenched with their blood as though God had given commandment for the extermination of those whom the Old Testament denominates his chosen children."

"In the Old World persecution of the Jews stains almost every page of history. Before the Christian era these people were persecuted, murdered, enslaved; but this was in the regular course of events, the business of nations then being to persecute, murder, and enslave, a sort of orderly proceeding in days when every nation was against every other nation; when war was constant; when men had not learned the dignity of labor.

"But it was not until Christianity had obtained dominion that the Jews were persecuted because they refused to 'accept Christ.' From then the spirit of oppression has grown. Persecution of the Jews, because they are Jews, is today tolerated in but few parts of the Christian world, so far as the statute books go; but the spirit that is breathed in the words, 'Christ killer,' is found in the eyes and on the tongues of Christians in the New World, as well as in the Old.

"It is not difficult to find the cause of this. Many people are, after a fashion, taught the Bible; some read it. Nearly all who are taught it, and many of those who read it, get the idea that nearly 1,900 years ago the Jews crucified Christ; that his cruel death is ever to be a subject of sorrow, and that the Jews, unless they give evidence by conversion, and join in the sorrow, are to be hated and hounded, even unto death.

"The bigots of the Russian Church proceed with sword and torch, and never so ferociously as on the anniversary of the day when Christ is supposed to have risen from the dead. * * *

"We cannot effectively remonstrate to the Russian government, but we can ask the church of the government to interfere. We can teach in press and pulpit that the statement that Jesus Christ was crucified by the Jewish nation is the wickedest falsehood that ever fell from human lips.

"If Christ was a mortal, if He was the son of Joseph and Mary, born in the good old-fashioned way. He was crucified by the Romans. If He was the Son of God, He was crucified by the direction of His Father. Under neither proposition can the Jews be held accountable. If He was a mortal, He was the prisoner of Rome, and the Jews, as a race, never cried for His blood."

"Let the church of Russia speak. Let the Czar speak. He is the head of that church. Not one in 1,000 Russians knows that Christ was a Jew. The Russian Greek Church has in its possession many bushels of relics. It has sticks and stones and rags. It proclaims that it has a garment worn by Christ; that it has some of His blood; that it has a picture of the Blessed Virgin drawn by St. Luke, that it has the hand of St. Mark and the bones of the Prophet Daniel.

"Let the churches of Russia resound with the cry that the hand of St. Mark is the hand of a Jew. Tell the people that the garment of Christ was worn by a Jew. Tell those who crowd the churches that on the day of final judgment Jesus Christ will hold court with twelve Jews as associate judges. Tell the congregations that those who murder Jews will be punished, condemned to eternal punishment. Use the relics. The day will come when they will be cast aside, but that day is many generations afar. While they are paraded, let it be in the cause of humanity.

"The Russian Greek Church has done little or no good on earth It has not taught peace and good will; it has worked with the wicked and cruel. It has not done its duty to the age in which it is tolerated. In the greater part of the civilized world philosophy, science, and commerce have secured men from the fangs of ferocious bigots."

Clean up and get ready for spring. Take a few Early Risers. These famous little pills cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels and give the blood a chance to purify itself They relieve headache, sallow complexion, etc. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by Gibson and Timberman and W. F. Creighton and Company.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 12, 1906.

IN THE House of Representatives yesterday the alleged watch trust had further illumination through a speech by Mr. Tirrell, of Massachusetts, who, in answering the address of Mr. Rainey, of Illinois, read a letter from the president of the Waltham Watch Company, in which it was emphatically stated that there was no watch trust. The president of the watch company admitted that the Waltham Company, in order to compete with the Swiss watch manufacturers, was compelled to sell abroad cheaper than at home. Mr. Williams, the minority leader, said that Mr. Tirrel's speech was one of the most important speeches made during the present session, because it had fearlessly confessed that the surplus products of factories were sold abroad at prices less than sold here. He then asked why they sold the surplus abroad at a less price than at home. "Here at home, with a sheltered market," said Mr. Williams, "sheltered by the tariff, for the planting, growth and consummation of combinations between manufacturers—I will not use the word 'trust' because it's a red flag in the eyes of many persons—the moment he undertook to sell the surplus here at less than cost he would break the market prices agreed upon by the various factories entering into the combination. The moment he did that, the hope which has been held out by the friends of protection that it would not ultimately increase the price of living would be shown to be illusory, because then each manufacturer would enter into competition with the other members of the trust, then there would be real competition and prices would be reduced."

THE ATTITUDE of the miners and operators now in conference in New York is, according to today's dispatches from that city, not really serious, and from present indications the matters in dispute will be settled to the satisfaction of both the parties to the controversy. A majority of the representatives of the miners are manifesting a conciliatory spirit which is being met with like good feeling on the part of the operators. The action of both will be hailed with delight by the peace-loving portion of the entire country. It is the conviction of many that labor issues can be managed with conservatism and common sense if left to cool-headed and reasonable people, and the miners' representatives—or a majority of them—have shown themselves to be of that genus. People whose lot it is to labor in the bowels of the earth perform a mission which should be appreciated. They take their lives in their hands in order to make a living and furnish an indispensable commodity for mankind. There may be times when they have grievances, and they should on such occasions be given a respectful hearing, and reasonable concessions made by those who employ them. The latter, too, are entitled to considerations which should not he rejected If the news from New York be correct, the miners have made sensible concessions, and there is every reason to believe the operators will act an honest part toward their employees.

THE investigation now being conducted by the Board of Police Commissioners is naturally attracting considerable interest. The board seems determined to make the investigation thorough, and should certain allegations concerning members of the force be substantiated examples will doubtless be made of such delinquents. At present it would probably be well to suspend judgment, as the board is simply acting as a grand jury and the members conduct their business behind closed doors. There are all sorts of reports being passed from mouth to mouth concerning evidence which the commissioners have secured. There is reason to believe that some is of a serious nature, and that it will be incumbent upon certain members of the force to refute it. Whether the charges are true or false remains to be seem. At any rate, in the face of the many inuendoes which have been heard from time to time, the board is unquestionably performing a duty it owes to those it represents as well as to each and every member of the police force. Should it be shown that any of the latter are remiss in the performance of their duty or guilty of offenses more serious, they can lay the blame at their own doors, while the trustworthy and innocent having nothing to fear.

THE Navy Department now admits that the battleship Connecticut, being constructed by the government at the New York Navy Yard, will not only cost approximately $400,000 more than her sister ship, the Louisiana, being built at the Newport News, private yard, but that the government will lose the race, in time of construction, which has been on since the building of the two big ships was begun. This is not only a strong argument in favor of the building of government ships by private parties, but also shows that the Virginia yard is one of the best equipped in the country.

From Washington.

Washington, April 12.

President Roosevelt is planning another extensive tour. It will be made in the summer of 1907. The President has already promised to attend the commencement exercises of the Missouri Agricultural College at Columbia during the first week of June 1907, and today indicated to Representative Smith that he would extend his trip into Michigan. As soon as it becomes generally known that the President is planning a whirl around the circle next year he will be deluged with invitations from places within reaching distance of his path and he will find it difficult indeed to refuse them all.

The Venezuelan legation here is in receipt of an official despatch from Caracas, dated April 9 stating that President Castro has for a time turned the government over to vice-President Gomez and will take a much needed rest at his plantation near LaVictoria, some five hours journey by rail to the interior from the capital.

The recent wrecking of the steamship Valencia on the Washington coast, prompted the House today to appropriate $30,000 for a life saving station at Neah Bay, at the entrance of Puget Sound, and $170,000 for the construction of a sea-going life saving tug for use in connection with the station. Neah Bay is the heart of the most dangerous coast line on the Pacific. In the last three months, exclusive of the Valencia horror, there have been three wrecks with a loss of 134 lives. In the past 25 years, fifty vessels have been lost, and 700 persons perished. There is not a life saving station within one hundred miles.

Hearings on the anti-injunction bills were resumed today before the House committee on the judiciary T. S. Spelling, a New York attorney, argued that Congress had not only the power, but the duty to limit the injunctional powers of the courts. President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, read a letter from former Senator Turner, of Washington, in advocacy of similar legislation.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the National Red Cross Society last night, it was decided to attempt to raise money for the volcano sufferers in Southern Italy. The money will be transmitted to the Red Cross in Italy, which has established a hospital at San Giuseppe.

The cruiser Pennsylvania, now steaming north from the fleet in the West Indies with sick enlisted men, has been ordered to proceed to the New York navy yard instead of Hampton Roads. The men on the sick list will be transferred to the Brooklyn Naval Hospital for treatment.

A dispatch at the State Department today from Tokio conveys additional assurances of the Japanese government's purpose to open Manchuria to foreign trade at the earliest date consistent with military exigencies. According to present plans, Antung-Hsien and Tatung-Kae will be open to foreign vessels and citizens by May 1st.

The House committee on election of President, Vice President and Representatives in Congress has authorized a favorable report on the resolution introduced by Mr. Norris, of Nebraska, recommending a sixteenth amendment to the Constitution, providing for election of United States Senators by a direct vote of the people and extending the term of Representatives from two to four years.

President Roosevelt this afternoon made a brief address to a party of German war veterans who were introduced to him at the White House by the German Ambassador, Baron von Sternburg. He spoke in terms of praise of the gallantry of German-American soldiers in the civil war, and complimenting those members of the German army who were present.

After hearings extending over three years, the inquiry into the right of Reed Smoot, being an apostle of the Mormon church, to retain his seat as a Senator from Utah, entered upon its final phase today. The concluding arguments of counsel in the case began this morning, before the Senate committee on privileges and elections and before a room full of spectators, mostly women. Former Secretary of the Treasury John G. Carlisle representing those protesting against Smoot's retention in the Senate, made the opening argument. He will be followed by Attorney A. S. Worthington of Smoot's counsel.

A recommendation that the department of justice take such farther steps against the Standard Oil Trust as the conditions laid bare seem to justify, is believed to be the most striking feature of the report soon to be submitted to President Roosevelt by commissioner of corporations, James Garfield, on his investigation of Standard Oil affairs directed by the House resolution adopted a year ago, the author of which is Congressman Campbell of Kansas.

Mr. Rixey has introduced a bill in the House to authorize the appointment of Acting Asst. Surg. Julian Taylor Miller, United States navy, as an assistant surgeon in the United States navy.

Monday will be "egg rolling day" on the White House grounds and youngsters in Washington are hard at work coloring eggs or decorating baskets in which to carry them. In accordance with custom President Roosevelt Roosevelt has given orders that the White House grounds be opened between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. "for the children only" and the gardeners are building wire and stake guards around the shrubbery to save the branches from the attacks of the youthful army. The Marine Band will give a concert south of the White House grounds after the egg-rolling for the benefit of those who were unable to participate in the festivities. President and Mrs. Roosevelt will view the fun from the south portico of the White House and Archie and Quentin will join the throng of children on the lawn.

Benning was again the attraction today and large crowds of persons were present to see the races. The weather could not have been better.

Mrs. Mary G. Stevenson, wife of David Stevenson, a former resident of Leesburg, was granted an absolute divorce from her husband Tuesday in the Circuit Court of Loudoun by Judge Nicol. The grounds alleged in the bill are cruelty, ill treatment and other statutory reasons. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson are from Philadelphia

Mr. Westmoreland Davis, owner of the Morven Park estate, near Leesburg, has imported from France the celebrated Percheron stallion Nibraye, the son of the famous sire Besique. It is reported that $4,000 was the price paid.

News of the Day.

A St. Petersburg paper states that the Czar has refused to accept Witte's resignation.

T. J Sullivan has been made director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington to succeed Capt. William M. Meredith.

The State convention of Indiana republicans yesterday declared for changes in the tariff, national regulation of railroads and enforcement of the anti-trust laws.

Representatives Smith, Gill and Talbot of Maryland are fighting the provision of the "pure food" bill which requires the weighing and special labeling of each can of canned goods.

The newly elected constitutional democratic members of the Russian Parliament cannot agree upon a line of policy, the more radical favoring a plan for declining to take the oath until the Czar himself shall have sworn fidelity to the constitution.

By direction of the President, the south grounds of the White House will be opened, in accordance with the custom, on Easter Monday, April 16, 1906, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 1 p. m., for children only, except that small children may be accompanied by adult guardians.

One of the sailors taken from the steamship Burrsfield, now in quarantine at Reedy Island, below Philadelphia, died yesterday from what is thought to be bubonic plague. This makes the third death which has occurred on the Burrsfield since the vessel sailed from Bombay, India.

Among the Russian prisoners arriving home from Japan there are many who had been reported dead by the general staff, and whose wives and other relatives had been so informed. The unexpected reappearance of these men is causing all sorts of strange family complications, as many wives, under the impression that they were widows, have remarried.

The metal manufacturers of Toledo, Ohio, including 17 of the 20 plants in the city, have organized a branch of the National Metal Trades' Association and declare that hereafter, while not seeking a conflict with union labor, they purpose to run their own business and employ and discharge whom they please, and that in the employment of labor they will make no distinction between union and nonunion laborers.

Members of the House are attacking numerous features of the pending postoffice appropriation bill. A class of persons totally ignored by the bill, Mr. Rixey yesterday remarked sarcastically, were the referees on postmasters in the southern States. He insisted that when the people of his district wanted a certain person as postmaster he had a right to go to the Postoffice Deprtment and make their wishes known, but he objected, as did his constituents, to the suggestion of the department to see the "referee" in the particular district. He thought this absolutely un-American.

Miners Conciliatory.

After having the counter arbitration plan of the anthracite operators under consideration nearly all of yesterday, the general scale committee of the hard coal miners in New York, completed the draft of their reply and will present it to the committee of mine owners at the joint session to be held there today, The strictest secrecy surrounded the work of the committeemen. It is believed the miners have decided to accept the operators' offer that the anthracite strike commission take up the dispute, but will ask that the tribunal be permitted to consider the original demands with certain important modifications.

The concessions said to have been decided upon are that instead of an agreement being entered into between the operators and the United Mine Workers of America, it be made with the anthracite mine workers; that the check-off be limited to the wage workers, who agree to an assessment to defray the expenses incurred in carrying out the miners' part of the agreement instead of all mine workers, union and nonunion, being compelled to contribute, and that the duration of the agreement be left to the commission. The miners in their arbitration plan asked for a two years' agreement and the operators in their counter proposition wanted one for three years.

If this proposition is accepted by the operators, it would leave the commission free to take up the demand for an increase in wages, an eight-hour day, uniform pay for all classes of employment paid by the day or month, reconstruction of the conciliation board, and a number of minor grievances. The operators want to limit the inquiry to wages and a method for the adjustment of complaints.

Roanoke's Postmaster.

Luther G. Funkhouser was appointed postmaster of Roanoke yesterday. The name of George L. Hart, which was previously sent to the Senate by the President, was withdrawn, charges having been made against Hart. The naming of Mr. Funkhouser as postmaster came as a genuine surprise to the people of Roanoke. The new postmaster has for more than 15 years been a clerk in a furniture store there. He is a native of Augusta county, but has lived in Roanoke since 1889. He is a practical republican having several times run for local office. Some two months ago the President named George L. Hart, secretary of the republican State executive committee, but his nomination was held up pending an investigation of charges regarding a real estate transaction in which it is alleged that State Chairman C. Bascom Slemp figured. Hart was agent for some Englishmen, and sold a plat of their ground to Slemp for $13,000. The day the deed was recorded another deed was recorded in which Slemp transferred the same ground to other parties for $30,000. It has been alleged that Hart returned $15,000 for the $17,000 profit to a Philadelphia lawyer who represents the Londoners in this country. Mr. Funkhouser will succeed Samuel H. Hoge, brother of the late John Hampton Hoge, who has been postmaster for the last eight years and whose term expired March 15.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, April 12.

SENATE.

The Senate passed a concurrent resolution including every member of Congress in the law prohibiting government officials from prematurely divulging certain secret information. The crop leak scandals of the agricultural department made the action necessary.

A bill was passed creating a new division in the southern judicial district of Iowa.

When the railroad rate bill was taken up in the Senate today, the galleries were crowded in anticipation of the reply of Mr. Spooner to the recent criticism of Mr. Bailey.

The Wisconcin Senator changed his mind at the last moment, however.

Mr. Foraker, of Ohio, followed.

Mr. Lattimer expressed fear that unjust practices of the railways could not be prevented. He said he was convinced that they would suffer little injury by reason of any legislation that would be passed.

Mr. Foraker announced that he had modified his anti-pass amendment so as to permit special privileges to ministers, insane and indigent people and those connected with eleemosynary institutions and he urged its adoption.

Mr. Foraker said he thought it unwise to enact such a measure as the Hepburn bill. He said he had become convinced that Congress would pass a regulation bill, so he offered and pressed an amendment providing an alternative remedy, which permitted the complaining shipper or communities to have their recourse entirely through the courts.

HOUSE.

The House adopted a resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury for certified copies of the accounts of the United States postal agent at Shanghai and the United States at Tien Tsin, China, for the years of 1901 to 1905.

The resolution was offered by Mr. Williams who is seeking an inquiry into the charges brought by Assistant Secretary of State Peirce against former consular officers in the Orient. "I suspect rottenness in Shanghai, and Tien Tsin," explained Mr. Williams, "and these accounts may shed light on the Oriental consular troubles."

The House today, considering the postoffice appropriation bill, adopted an amendment offered by Representative Boutell, of Illinois, providing 100 clerks of the $600 class, for immediate duty at the Chicago postoffice, to relieve the serious congestion there due to the lack of an adequate clerical force.

The House committee on labor today ordered a favorable report on the Hunt bill, which makes prison-made goods subject to the laws of the State into which they are shipped for disposal.

Noted Showman Dead.

James A. Bailey, the showman, proprietor of Barnum & Bailey's circus, died at his home, the Knolls, Corcoran Manor, Mount Vernon, N. Y., yesterday afternoon from erysipelas, aged 60 years.

Mr. Bailey's real name was James A. McGinnis, and he was born in Detroit, Mich. He assumed the name of Bailey because his first associations were with a well-known showman of that name. Mr. Bailey leaves a widow, who was Miss Ruth Louisa McCaddon.

In 1871 Bailey became general agent for the circus of Hemming, Cooper & Whitby, and a year later became an equal owner with J. E. Cooper of the "Great London Show," which they took all over the world

By this time Mr. Bailey had distanced all competitors save Barnum, and he felt strong enough to give battle to this veteran showman on his own ground. Mr. Barnum suffered defeat in 1880, and at his initiative negotiations were begun which resulted in the combination of the two exhibitions into one. To Mr. Bailey was very soon given the almost entire responsibility and management of the combined business.

It is estimated that the fortune left by the circus proprietor will reach anywhere from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000.

A Surprise.

Two new surprises greeted the public yesterday in connection with the shortage of the late Treasurer Todd, of Henrico county One was that the $9,000 paid by his executor into the treasury Saturday in relief of the school fund does not reduce the shortage, but was a mere transfer of money in bank from his private account to that of his account as treasurer and had already been accounted for. The county, it is said, will not depend upon his estate at all, but looks to the bonding company for the money due.

The second surprise was when the grand jury of the Circuit Court filed into the courtroom and put this hypothetical question to Judge Scott:

"If the County Treasurer used funds for his personal use and loaned the money out, but accounted to the proper officials when called upon, was that malfeasence?"

Judge Scott answered "yes."

The foreman said later that they had agreed upon a report, but desired to put it in writing, and, at his request, the jury was adjourned until 10 o'clock today.

Baseball.

Today marks the opening of the National Baseball League. The New York Club will play at Philadelphia, the Bostons at Brooklyn, the Chicagos at Cincinnati and the Pittsburgs at St. Louis. The American League opening is booked for Saturday.

It is stated unofficially that the meeting of The Hague conference has been postponed to a date not earlier than October. The conference will meet at the convenience of the United States.

Letter to Thos. F. Burroughs Sons and Co.

Dear Sirs: The commonest lie for paints is: "A gallon covers 300 square feet, two coats." It does and it don't; depends on the paint; the old paint; and the painter: all three.

It is true of Devoe with a margin. Devoe is too thick for some jobs; the painter will add some oil, sometimes not always; especially in cold weather. Mr Albert Page, Fairfield, Me, computed Devoe for his house (300 ft a gallon, two coats) at 4) gallons; had 13 left. Yours truly

Miners and Operators.

New York, April 12.—Important developments that will determine whether there will be peace or war in the hard coal fields are expected at the joint meeting of the operators and miners this afternoon when John Mitchell submits the miners' reply to the arbitration proposal of the operators. The counter-proposal of the miners will without doubt be rejected, but as neither side has as yet appeared to have reached the irreducible minimum, it is not thought that negotiations will be broken off. Another adjournment is anticipated.

The miners' scale committee has made several material changes in the operators' proposition, but there appears to be but two modifications or submissions upon which both sides may split, namely: the eight hour-day and the proposition of the operators that a reduction of wages be considered as well as an increase. The miners are willing to accept the old anthracite strike commission to arbitrate the questions, but will insist that the seventh member be appointed by President Roosevelt, to take the place of Bishop Spalding, of Peoria, Illinois, who cannot serve because of illness. The operators will make no objection to this demand of the miners.

The sub-scale committee will practically demand that all the original demands be submitted to the anthracite commission, with the exception of the demand for union recognition.

This demand will be changed so that any agreement arrived at will be between the operators and the "anthracite mine workers." The miners say that for every practical purpose the mine workers' union is recognized by the operators since they deliberate and make terms with them for the conditions of labor in and about the mines.

The counter-proposal of the miners insists that the eight hour work day be submitted for arbitration.

This is an important demand and the sub-scale committee took the firm position that it must be arbitrated. The operators say this morning that they will not accept any proposition to arbitrate the question of an eight hour day. Which side will give way on this question is problematical.

New York, April 12.—The anthracite operators and miners went into session at 1:30 this afternoon in the Jersey Central building to renew negotiations with a view of trying tosettle the questions brought up by the dissatisfied laborers of the coal fields. It was the miners' move today. Through President Mitchell, they made reply to the offer of the operators that the proposed arbitration of the differences be limited to the question of wages and changes in the board of conciliation.

The conference of miners and operators which went into session at 1:30 this afternoon, adjourned at 2:10. President Mitchell, on behalf of the miners, rejected the operators' offer of a limited arbitration, but filed an amended offer to bring about peace through the same means.

The amended offer strikes out the demands for official recognition of the United Mine Workers' Union, but asks for practically the same results by asking the operators to draw up an agreement with the "Anthracite Mine Workers."

The checking system demand is dropped by the miners and they also ask that whatever agreement is reached it be for one year. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of both chairmen.

Vesuvius Subsiding.

Naples, April 12 —The eruption of Mount Vesuvius, which has cause much wide spread devastation and loss of life, continues to diminish today, and cinders and blocks of stone have practically ceased to fall in Naples, though the hail continued to the south and westward

The correspondent, however, succeeded in viewing Torre Annunziata, which is almost directly south of Vesuvius.

The destruction of property is indescribable, many houses being buried under several feet of dust and barely visible.

This morning the situation in Naples is better. The people are calmer, and the terrible nervousness and hysteria which prevailed yesterday is gradually disappearing.

It is almost impossible at this time to gather any general idea of what has actually taken place within the circle included between Portici on the west and Avelina on the east, because of the rupture of communications which has caused general chaos.

The Vatican at present is greatly concerned over the safety of the miraculous sanctuary of the Madonna, at Pompeii, from which it derives great revenue. In the last twenty-four hours the lava has been approaching the sanctuary.

A new horror has been added to the already terrible situation in that ghouls are now busy in the town from which the danger has shifted for the present and along the highways leading to such towns and villages.

A horde of thieves has invaded these towns and 300 arrests were made yesterday. The ghouls not only have plundered the deserted homes of refugees, but, they do not hesitate to rob the bodies of the dead lying in the villages or along the roads.

Naples, April 12—The hail of cinders has begun again, and the waves of the bay are whipped as if by a hail storm of gigantic proportions. Nevertheless the dangerous phenomena continue to decrease.

Famine reigns in the city and thousands of persons have no place to sleep. This condition of affairs is bound to prevail for weeks.

Performing Time-honored Service.

Vienna, April 12.—Emperor Francis Joseph, in accordance with the time-honored Maunday Thursday custom, today performed the annual ceremony of washing the feet of the twelve oldest poor men of the city who were able to be taken to the palace and then served them at the banquet which followed. The average age of the men selected for this ceremony was 92 years. They were dressed in special uniforms for the occasion. The washing of feet took place in the hall of ceremonies in the palace. Six archdukes and three archduchesses assisted the emperor. Included in the number was Archduke Franz Ferdinand, heir presumptive to the throne, who carried the water with which the emperor laved the feet of the aged men. Following this ceremony a banquet was served at which Francis Joseph personally waited upon the old men. Each man was then presented with thirty-five pieces of silver.

Thirty-one High Balls.

Chicago, April 12.—Mrs. Beatrice Price Henrici, whose husband was granted a divorce last week, declares she intends to study the occult and may lecture on the subject. During the separation proceedings Mr. Henrici testified that his wife drank thirty-one highballs in one night. The occasion was the thirty-first birthday of Mrs. Henrici, and she had gathered about her a gay party. "My wife declared early in the evening," said Henrici, "that she would drink one highball for each year of her life. She did it, and one by one I counted the glasses. She had drunk the thirtieth, and we are looked at each other around the table, and wondered if she could drink the next one. "She rose from the table, lifted one foot on a chair on which she had been sitting, and, raising the last glass to her lips, she drank the liquor. "You doubted me, did you?" she laughed; but as she laughed her limbs stiffened, and, with a scream, she fell to the floor. That picture is seared in my brain for all time. "My wife was a hopeless drunkard. Night after night she came home intoxicated, and it cost me $15,000 a year to pay her bills." Judge McEwen, who heard the testimony, quickly granted a divorce.

Sea Water Sizzled in Volcano.

Pittsburg, April 12.—Professor John A. Brashear, the noted astronomer of this city, takes no stock in the sun spot theory of the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius. He says the theory attributed to Professor Belar, of Laibach, that a sunspot is responsible, is ridiculous. "If this were true," he says, "why was Vesuvius quiescent last October, when the sunspots were at their greatest period of disturbance? These outbreaks are caused by in-rush of sea water, which generates steam, and something has to give way to save this old earth from being blown up like a steam boiler."

Church Stormed by Peasants.

Vienna, April 12.—A telegram from Warsaw says that a church near Bloniee belonging to Marianites was stormed by Catholic peasants. The Marianites defended the place desperately using revolvers freely. Twenty priests and a woman were mortally wounded during the trouble. The anti-Marianite agitation is spreading throughout the country.

Suicide of an Unknown Woman.

Philadelphia, April 12.—After having destroyed all means of identification a well dressed young woman fired a bullet into her brain at American and Lehigh avenues within sight of thousands of men and women on their way to work this morning. There is considerable mystery surrounding the affair, and both the police and coroner's officials are making investigations.

Famine in Russia.

Glasgow, April 12.—A dispatch to the Herald from St. Petersburg states that the famine horror in Russia is daily increasing. All the people in several villages, it says, have seen poisoned by eating garbage.

New York Stock Market.

New York, April 12.—After a quiet and strong opening following the favorable news in regard to the money situation yesterday the stock market reacted under fairly large profit-taking sales in many of the standard issues. There was an understanding in well informed circles that strong interests are opposed to any aggressive bullish speculation at the present time. In the last few minutes the market came to a practical standstill and was then without special feature.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Coroner Moke, of New Brunswick, N. J., has been notified by J. Bond, of Washington, D. C., that the man who committed suicide yesterday by kneeling in front of a Pennsylvania railroad train, is Bond's son.

One of the principal creditors of Boni Castellane in Paris, has applied for permission to have his action against the Count which has already been begun postponed until after the divorce suit of the Countess shall have been settled.

Padre Lais, director of the observatory at Florence, Italy, whose seismic instruments recently registered an earthquake in the Pacific, says that at 11:30 o'clock Thursday night a violent earthquake occurred some place at a distance of at least 9,500 kilometres from Florence.

Albert Trott, the West Indian negro, arrested Tuesday night for striking Mrs. Isabella Oliver, while riding on an "L" train, and who narrowly escaped lynching was held in $1,00 bail by Magistrate Barlow in the West Side police court, New York, today.

Bellamy Storer, the retiring United States Ambassador, took leave of Emperor Francis Joseph at Vienna this morning and presented his letters of recall, which arrived much sooner than they were expected.

The postal strike in Paris has assumed serious proportions. Mail vans are being used in carrying telegrams and each is accompanied by an escort of soldiers. Troops are guarding all the postoffices.

Court Bill Defective.

The Court of Appeals of Virginia yesterday granted Delegate Throckmorton's petition for a mandamus in the case of the omnibus legislative act changing the terms of the State's twenty-nine circuit courts. This act, according to the petitioner, is defective, because of a misleading title, which indicates that it refers to the Sixteenth circuit, while, as a matter of fact, all the courts are concerned.

By the decision of the court the keeper of the rolls and the public printer will be forbidden to incorporate any part of the bill in acts of assembly, save that portion which refers to the Sixteenth circuit.

As five new courts were also provided for in the bill, it is a problem when they will begin to hold their terms.

Illegal Dredging.

It is stated that the long standing wrangle between Virginia and Maryland over oysters and kindred affairs is being taken up vigorously by Governor Swanson. He has had considerable correspondence with the Maryland authorities over fines assessed by Virginia magistrates for illegal dredging in the Potomac, for which Maryland claims the money. Virginia has the fines in hand and evinces some disposition not to give them up. There are some nice legal questions involved, but Governor Swanson hopes to settle them at an early day.

Analogous questions arose during Governor Tyler's regime, when former Governor Montague was attorney general.

Baron Rosen, the Russian Ambassador, called upon Secretary Root today at the State Department and presented the view of his government upon the objection by the United States and other American governments to the date proposed by the Russian government for the holding of the Second Hague Peace Conference. Baron Rosen stated that the Russian government, at the conference with the government of the Netherlands, was willing to defer the convention to some date later than the first half of July, originally proposed by Russia. Russia's willingness to alter the date constitutes a victory for the Latin American diplomats, who insisted that The Hague Peace Conference should not conflict with the Pan-American Conference at Rio and the Red Cross meeting at Geneva.

Railroad Extension.

It is stated that a survey has been ordered for an electric railroad from Vienna to Herndon on the south side of the present track of the Bluemont branch of the Southern Railway. It is believed this survey is for an extension of the Arlington, Falls Church and Fairfax electric road, and has no connection with the project being pushed by Maj. Hine, of Vienna, in the interest of the Great Falls and Old Dominion, a survey for which is being made on the north side of the steam railroad.—[Leesburg Mirror.

Another Manufactory.

Messrs. Heupel, Holloran & Winship, of Washington, have made arrangements to remove their plant from that city to Alexandria. This firm is engaged in the manufacture of automatic locks. They have secured from Mr. Samuel H. Lunt the brick building on the west side of Union street, between King and Prince, in the olden times known as John Price's resturant, and will take possession on the first day of May.

The members of the Westminister League of the Second Presbyterian Church will tonight attend a social meeting at the residence of the president, Mr. A. J. Grover, 308, Ninth street, northeast, Washington.

Two Ex-Confederates Meet.

It is doubtful if there lives two war veterans with careers more remarkable and so closely interwoven as those of Messrs. Romanus Rinker and Jacob W. Willey, of Middletown, Frederick county, who were in Winchester a day or two ago renewing their applications for Confederate pensions at the office of County Clerk Phil H. Gold. Messrs. Rinker and Wiley are about the same age and they have been chums ever since they were "knee high to a grasshopper." They were born within a stone's throw of each other in Warren county long before the civil war was thought of; they played together, went into the Southern army the first year of the war, in the same company; each were wounded on or near the same finger of the left hand, left the army at the close of the war, returned to their old homes, moved to Middletown, and have lived neighbors ever since. Mr. Rinker enlisted in the Warren Rifles, Capt. F. W. Lehue commanding, on May 3, 1861, and Mr. Willey went into the same company on September 1, 1861. At that time the Rifles belonged to the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment, which was commanded by Col. Morton Marye, now the popular auditor of Virginia, who, when wounded at the second battle of Manassas on August 30, 1862, was succeeded by Col. Arthur Herbert, of Alexandria. The regiment was a part of Pickett's division. In that battle Colonel Marye had one of his legs so badly shattered by a cannon ball that it had to be cut off. He was carried from the field by Mr. Willey, and they have been fast friends ever since. The latter was captured once at South Mountain and held prisoner, and later the federals got him at Five Forks. Mr. Rinker was struck on the left hand by a bullet at Dinwiddie Court House on March 31, 1865, just 10 days before the surrender, and he was on dress parade with the Rifles at Appomattox the day Gen. Robert E Lee offered his sword to General Grant. Mr. Willey was one of those who heard Gen. Lee's farewell address to the soldiers, which took place 41 years ago last Monday.—[Winchester News.

Police Commissioners.

Another meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners was held last night. Mayor Paff and Commissioners Hill, Fisher and Oehlert were present.

The investigation of the official deportment of the members of the police force was continued. Three witnesses were examined for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the officers are guilty of dereliction of duty.

The investigation was again conducted behind closed doors and the testimony is not as yet public property, but when all witnesses shall have been heard the substance of the depositions will be published as well as the names of the officers against whom allegations have been made.

The investigation is arousing considerable interest in the city and is causing much discussion. At previous investigations some serious charges, it is said, have been urged against some members of the force which, if substantiated when the accused are allowed to face their accusers, will doubtless result in changes in the personnel of the force.

The meeting last night was held in the Mayor's office in the City Hall. Another meeting will be held in the same place tonight.

Fires.

The fire early last night was in one of the small frame houses south of the Southern Railway roundhouse on Henry street. The damage was slight, as the firemen were quick to respond to the alarm. An adjoining house had been on fire yesterday afternoon, but the flames had been extinguished by employes at the depot.

At 3 o'clock this morning a fire was discovered in the frame house on the south side of Duke street at the Stone Bridge. Locomotive whistles sounded an alarm and the firemen soon had the fire under control. The building is occupied by R. A. Sprouse & Son as a grocery store. This is the third time this house has been on fire during the past few years. There are some suspicious circumstances in connection with this fire. Heretofore attempts have been made to burn the house, and it is believed that its destruction was intended by some person or persons last night. Members of the police force are making a close investigation into facts in connection with the fire.

Death of Mr. Shaffer.

Mr. Charles G. Shafer, a well known resident of this city, died last night at his home on south Henry street. The deceased had been a sufferer from organic troubles for some time. He leaves a widow and several children. The deceased was a native of Maryland, but had lived in Alexandria during the greater portion of his life. Over half a century ago his father, mother and brother were regular attendants at the market house of this city where they sold country produce grown opposite Alexandria. Mr. Shaffer was an ex-Confederate soldier, he having enlisted in 1861 in Company F, Fifth Virginia battalion, Prince William Rifles, serving throughout the war and was a member of Lee Camp. For many years he had been a huckster in the market house, his stall having been under the steeple on the Royal street side of the City Hall.

Easter Service at Meade Chapel.

The following musical programme will be rendered at Meade Chapel on Easter evening at 5 o'clock:

Hymn, No 125; anthem, "Rejoice," Hager; Magnificat in B flat, Custance; Nunc Dimittis in B flat, Gounod; solo, Miss Josie Clark, "He Lives," Danks; Hymn, No. 116; sermon; solo, Miss Mabel Cooper, "Risen Indeed," Marzo; offertory; anthem, "Awake Glad Song, Awake," Williams; recessional hymn, No. 118.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Milly Ford, colored, arrested by Officer Beach charged with stealing sundry articles from the Florence Crittendon Home, had her case continued.

A Badly Burned Girl

or boy, man or woman, is quickly out of pain if Bucklen's Arnica Salve is applied promptly. G. J. Welch, of Tekonsha, Mich., says: "I use it in my family for cuts, sores and all skin injures, and find it perfect." Quickest pile cure known. Best healing salve made. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

New Building Occupied.

Mr. Edgar Warfield, jr., druggist, has removed into his new building at the northwest corner of King and Pitt streets, and he was today receiving the congratulations of his friends and acquaintances. He was the recipient of many beautiful flowers. They were displayed in the new store and attracted considerable attention. The new structure is one of the prettiest and most imposing in Alexandria, and probably the largest constructed by a private individual. It has a frontage of 22 feet on King street and 78 on Pitt. The exterior of the structure is of Roman brick which shows to great advantage. The store proper has been fitted up in the most modern manner, and similar in every respect to the finest seen in the larger cities. A tarraza floor, with a cyrannic border has been laid which adds materially to the interior appointments. The finishings are in mahogany and marble and there are five large bevelled plate glass mirrors. The prescription department is equipped with every modern convenience for the handling of this important branch of the business. The building has three stories, the two upper floors forming what is to be known as the "Warfield Apartments." There are six rooms and a bath on each floor, and the conveniences in the shape of plumbing, electrical bells, speaking tubes, &c., are modern in every particular. The building has been wired for electricity and all the fixtures for the same installed. Hot and cold water can be obtained on either floor and each room is to be heated by hot water. The entrance to the flats is on Pitt street through a reception hall finished in oak, and forming a fitting introduction to the luxurious apartments above. These apartments compare favorably with the best to be found in large cities. Mr. Joseph F. Rodgers was the contractor for the building, and the work is justly commended by all who have inspected it. Numbers of people were conducted through the new building today.

An Echo from Mother Goose.

Hot cross buns will be in season tomorrow, and the occasion brings to mind recollections of nursery days when Mother Goose's Melodies (a relic of old England) was the main text book. A cadaverous-looking individual with a basket on one arm and ringing a bell with the other was pictured and represented as uttering the following:

Hot cross buns, hot cross buns!
One a-penny, two-a-penny,
Hot cross buns!
If your daughters don't like them,
Give 'em to your sons,
One-a-penny, two-a-penny,
Hot cross buns!

Some of the bakers were taking orders today for this accompaniment to holy week.

To Celebrate Anniversary.

As has heretofore been stated, Harmony Lodge, No. 818, G. M. of O. F. (colored), will celebrate its 60th anniversary in this city on Monday next. There will be a street parade at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, followed by public speaking in the Opera House at 4 o'clock. William H. Davis, Lucien Gaines, Robert A. Dorsey and William F. Evans are members of the executive committee.

Fishtown.

There was some animation at Fishtown this morning. Fish were being landed and cutters were at work. Prices, however, were well maintained with no evidence of weakening. Shad and herring are said to be gradually working their way up the river into fresh water, and some are being caught a short distance below this city. Fine rock fish, black bass and perch are among the receipts.

Half-Hour Service.

The ferry steamer Callahan, now being built at Wilmington, Del., is fast nearing completion, and the officers of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat company announced today that the steamer would be put on the route between this city and Washington on June 1st, when a half-hour ferry service would be established between the two cities.

Personal.

Property Sales.

Dr. G. T. Klipstein has sold to Mr. Clarence Simpson a house and lot on the north side of Wolfe street, between Pitt and St. Asaph.

Mr. Wm. Buckingham has sold to Mr. C. B. Swann a house and lot on the west side of Washington street, between Princess and Oronoco.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. G. B. Leary, of Cherry Hill, Fairfax county, who was well known in this city, died on Friday last.

Those whose early morning slumbers have been interrupted during the week by the church bells calling the faithful together can now sleep on.

Officer Roberts today recovered in Washington a gold-filled hunting case watch which was recently stolen from No. 421 north Columbus street.

Marriage licenses were issued in Washington yesterday to John L. Jeffries and Sadie B. Chappelear, both of Culpeper, and to Thomas J. Brown and Lena V. Anderson, both of Culpeper.

An entertainment will be given in Trinity M. E. Church tonight at 7:30 o'clock by some deaf mutes from Baltimore. The proceeds are for the music fund of the Epworth League.

There was another landslide last night in the new railroad embankment a short distance north of Hooff's run.

The OLD Story

Yes, That Same Old Story.

"If I had only begun to SAVE when young!" It's never too late to start. Begin to prepare for the rainy day now and SAVE a little of your income. We do not advise SAVING merely for the money's sake, merely for gratification or enrichment. To have money and have nothing else is to be POOR INDEED. But every man with a child or any human being dependent upon him owes it to his sense of decency to SAVE his money, for only money SAVED and accumulated can mean permanent safety for the weak. Money means independence and the man whose dollar you must work for from day to day is the man that's INDEPENDENT. We want you to accumulate and SAVE that which will make you independent of other men. Make up your mind to do this by opening an account in our SAVINGS DEPARTMENT, where it will earn 3 PER CENT. interest, compounded. Call and talk this matter over with us—CALL TODAY.

Wanted to Kill the Negro.

"How dare the black wretch lay a hand on a white woman! Why, he would never leave court alive if it was in Alabama." Declaring that she would kill him herself, Mrs. Isabel Oliver, in the West Side Court in New York, appeared against Albert Trout, a negro who struck her in the face as he left an elevated train at Sixty-sixth street Tuesday night. Mrs. Oliver, who is a handsome woman, a native of Alabama, appeared in the courtroom, her face discolored from the blow dealt her by the prisoner. When Trout was arraigned she became hysterical. "I want that nigger put away!" she shouted. "He struck me! I'll kill him myself!" Counsel for the negro requested an adjournment until today to secure witnesses. When Magistrate Barlow consented Mrs. Oliver became more hysterical than before. "I want him put away now!" she cried as she began to abuse the prisoner, a sporty looking individual, who tried to look unconcerned. Finally, unable to quiet her, a policeman led her from the room. In the hallway of the building she gave vent to her rage to such an extent that her husband required the assistance of the policeman to force her to leave the building. The assault, she reiterated, had been unprovoked. Trout in getting out of the car, which was crowded, had lurched against her. She said she had turned and cautioned him to be careful, whereupon, she alleged, he struck her a violent blow in the face. Several of the passengers made a rush for the negro and after a moment of desperate resistance, he was thrown, with a half dozen men on top of him, pounding and kicking. He was saved from more severe injury by the arrival of policemen.

Voyage in a Balloon.

The balloon which carried Dr. Julius P. Thomas, Mrs Thomas, and Charles Levee from Pittsfield, Mass., to Somerville, Conn., occupied two hours and fifty minutes in the journey of about eighty miles. The start from Pittsfield was made at 3:25 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and it was 6:15 when the balloon got tangled in one of the big elms of Somerville and came to a halt. Nobody was hurt in the contact with the tree, and the three occupants of the air ship were able to land without trouble. The balloon was made snug for the night, and the aeronauts took the trolley car for Springfield, where they boarded the 10 o'clock train for New York. In the course of its journey the balloon passed over Springfield, Mass.; East Windsor, Thompsonville, Ellington, and Somerville, Conn., making a circuit around the latter place before it landed. Although the party would not go into particulars, they said the trip was a success in every way. The balloon ascended 5,000 feet.

Advertising for Bids.

The entire specification division of the government printing office might be abolished and 300 or 400 employees thrown out of work by letting the Official Gazette work out in its entirety to an outside concern.

As an economic experiment, bids have been advertised for by the Commissioner of Patents, F. I. Allen. If it proves cheaper to have the Gazette produced on the outside, there will be a drawing away from the big printing establishment that would cause grave concern on the part of the small army of employees.

It is understood that Columbia Typographical Union would oppose the innovation, because the work might be taken out of Washington. Firms in other cities often secure such contracts.

Sealed proposals in quadruplicate will be received at the Patent Office up to 2 o'clock Friday, April 20, when they will be opened.

Don't tie a cough or a cold up in your system by taking a remedy that binds the bowels. Take Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. It is better. It opens the bowels. An ideal remedy for young and old. Children like it. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 402 King street.

Board of Agriculture.

The State Board of Agriculture made an informal call on Governor Swanson in Richmond yesterday and then went into session in the quarters of the department behind closed doors. C. W. Heater, of Orange, was chosen president, and the following executive committee was elected: C. W. Heater, J. H. C. Beverley, W. H. Eggborn, A. O. Manck and R. Scoll. Other members present were J. M. Barker, John T. Cowan, James R. Goodwin and Commissioner Koiner.

The board went into the discussion of immigration in connection with bringing desirable farm laborers to Richmond from England, Norway and other countries.

Rev. Robert White, jr., of Virginia, who recently accepted a call to North Cambridge, Mass., and Miss Laura Placida Bridgers will be married next week in Calvary Church, Tarboro, N. C. The ceremony will be performed Wednesday, April 18.

A Young Mother of 70.

"My mother has suddenly been made young at 70. Twenty years of intense suffering from dyspepsia had entirely disabled her, until six months ago, when she began taking Electric Bitters, which have completely cured her and restored the strength and activity she had in the prime of life," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick, of Danforth, Me. Greatest restorative medicine on the globe. Sets Stomach, Liver and Kidneys right, purifies the blood and cures Malaria, Biliousness and Weaknesses. Wonderful Nerve Tonic. Price 50c. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

Can you believe your senses?

When two of them, taste and smell, having been impaired if not utterly destroyed, by Nasal Catarrh, are fully restored by Ely's Cream Balm, can you doubt that this remedy deserves all that has been said of it by the thousands whom it has cured? It is applied directly to the affected air-passages and begins its healing work at once. Why not get it today? All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York, on receipt of 50 cents.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best and Most Popular.

"Mothers buy it for croupy children, railroad men buy it for severe coughs and elderly people buy it for la grippe," says Moore Bros., Eldon, Iowa. "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but this medicine is the best that can be procured for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.
